

Contract Bargaining in Tough Times

Lessons From the Recent Past

Steve Early

Steve Early dealt with the National Labor Relations Board as an organizer for the Communications Workers of America in New England for nearly three decades. He has been involved in labor law reform activity since 1975. He is the author of Embedded With Organized Labor: Journalistic Reflections on the Class War at Home from Monthly Review Press.

After Steve Early's presentation, a discussion concerning how the Capital District progressive community can strategically and effectively assist in upcoming labor struggles will occur.
